FOR FATHER'S DAY

June 17th is Dad's Day and calls for at least a tie. Why not make it complete by adding a shirt, arm bands and cuff buttons? Or give him a pair of socks and garters, a pair of trouser suspenders or a belt. Dad is not hard to please and would appreciate any small remembrance. Make it worth while—he deserves it.

THE LACOMBE BULL SALE LEADS

In a catalogue got out by the Live Stock Association of Calgary, it is stated that "This sale was inaugurated at Lacombe in 1900, and after 12 years was transferred to Calgary, at the desire of contributors who wished to take advantage of the better accommodation and facilities."

The Calgary stockmen failed to note that ever since the sale was removed from Lacombe to Calgary the prices received for bulls show a steady decline. In 1921, the last of the sales held here under Calgary management, the average of the sale was $132.81 per head; in 1922, the sale was held at Calgary and the average dropped to $106.92, the next year at Calgary, the average dropped to $74.91; the next year it was $54.60. Lacombe did not discontinue its spring sales on account of Calgary's action, and the results have been most gratifying. In every year the Lacombe average has been higher than Calgary. This year, with practically the same number of bulls offered at both Calgary and Lacombe, a comparison shows that the Calgary averages were as follows:

Herefords, $158.00;
Shorthorns, $91.25;
The averages at Lacombe were:

Aberdeen-Angus $125.75;
Herefords, $175.55;
Shorthorns $146.15;
With a general average for the entire sale of $146.00.

As to accommodation, Lacombe has sufficient for upwards of 200 head; hotel accommodation sufficient for everyone. Our stockmen may rest assured that the Lacombe sale is a permanent fixture.

The Rock, Mountain Lakes fishing season was opened recently with a catch of a thirty-two pound lake trout by George Andrews of Banff, in Lake Minnewanka. A number of others of not such a great weight were caught by guests of the Banff Springs Hotel.

The month of April was the most successful so far this year from the standpoint of families settled, according to a statement issued by the Canada Colonization Association. During the month 81 families were settled throughout the Dominion on 19,249 acres of land, bringing the total of settlements from the first of the year up to 224 on 46,207 acres.

There are in Alberta today 77,192 farmers who have 834,324 horses in use and 10,225 tractors. In Saskatchewan there are 118,782 farmers with 1,199,556 horses and 24,387 tractors. Manitoba has 51,250 farmers with 355,480 horses and 833 tractors. The survey would indicate that while the horse is yet far from being a back number on Western Canadian farms, the day of the tractor has definitely arrived.

Miss Jean Cameron, who came to her parents from England at the age of four, at ten commenced trapping in the district of her father's home. Today, at the age of 21, she finds it quite a lucrative and congenial pursuit, and quite superior to any occupation which would keep her in the city.

She follows a trap line within a ten mile radius of her house and her catch includes coyote, lynx, weasel and fox.

A record passage by a freighter and one that has only been expected of a passenger ship was recently accomplished when the Canadian Pacific Cargo steamship Beaverburn docked at the Surrey Commercial docks, London, nine days after leaving Montreal. The trip was the first out of Montreal of one of the Beaverburn vessels and this record will be eclipsed by from twelve to fifteen hours now that the Beaverburn and vessels of her class are routed via the Straits of Belle Isle.

Seed growing is one of the latest industries of Vancouver Island steadily increasing importance. Vancouver Island sweet pea seed sells on the English market from three to four shillings per pound more than the California seed. The largest sweet pea seed farm is at Duncan, which produces yearly about two tons. From 15 to 20 women are employed each year to pick, clean and pack the seed, the excellence and high quality of which is becoming world-famous.

All the sport of fishing with a minimum of destruction of fish was realized recently when a party of four members of the Isak Walton League of America enjoyed a fortnight's salmon fishing on the Cains River, New Brunswick. The party fished 150 salmon and returned ten to the water except twelve. The fish ranged from 25 pounds to an average of fifty-five and the catch was taken with barbed hooks and streamer flies. Very fine sport was enjoyed but the fish were in no way injured when returned to their native stream.

GEORGE H. HUTTON Former Superintendent Of Lacombe Experimental Station Dies Suddenly

Our citizens were deeply shocked on Thursday last when the word that George H. Hutton, former Superintendent of the Experimental Station here, was dead. Mr. Hutton was a resident of Lacombe for twelve years before going to the C.P.R., and had many friends in town and country. The following account of his death is taken from the Calgary Herald, and shows in some degree, the high esteem in which he was held in that city:

News of the death near Anacoda, Mont., at noon Thursday of George H. Hutton, superintendent of agriculture and animal husbandry branch of the Canadian Pacific Railway, came with such a shock and suddenness that it seemed almost incredible to the host of friends he had in the city.

Apparently in the very best of health, he left Calgary by auto on Saturday, accompanied by N. J. Christie, president of the Calgary Exhibition Association, and Prof. W. L. Carlyle, manager of the Prince of Wales E.P. ranch. His mission, as that of his associates, was to investigate some proposed changes having to do with sheep raising.

Mr. Christie telephoned the particulars of the sad affair to S. G. Porter, superintendent of the Canadian Pacific Department of Natural Resources, on Thursday afternoon. Mr. Hutton and the party motored about Anacoda, and stopped 17 miles outside of Anacoda, and stopping by the roadside, set out to walk across a field. They had gone about 100 feet when Mr. Hutton said: "I guess you will have to hold me," and caught hold of Professor Carlyle's coat.

Until that very moment, Mr. Hutton had been in his usual good humor. Professor Carlyle, as he turned around, thought Mr. Hutton was joking, but to his horror, saw him fall dead where he stood, without saying another word.

Enjoyed Splendid Health
Mr. Hutton had enjoyed splendid health through his life. In his younger days he was an athlete of note in his native province, Ontario, where he one time held a provincial wrestling championship. In his work connected with the C.P.R. and the numerous bodies in which he was interested he carried a heavy load of responsibility apparently without difficulty because of his fine physique. Last week he suffered a slight illness, but his physician in Calgary stated following receipt of the news of his death, that it was of a nervous character and not of a nature to suggest any weakness of the sort that brought his life so suddenly to a close.

It was with real sorrow that men and women and many boys and girls in this city and outside heard the word of his passing. His associates in the Department of Natural Resources were dumfounded when called into Mr. Porter's office and told of what had happened. Men said they had thought of George Hutton as their best friend. Kind, courteous, and anxious to help, he had the asset of a quiet, kindly disposition out of which showed a very fine sense of humor and withal an even temper.

He was regarded as an authority on the subject he made his special life study—agriculture and livestock. In that subject he had an absorbing interest and worked to better it in all the ways he could. At meetings of agricultural and livestock organizations he took a prominent place, and was a member of the directorate of many of them. Men seeking information on the possibilities of the west or wishing the latest data on its advancement along the lines he was particularly interested in found in him a ready helper.

Nor was his interest confined to organizations and work concerned in connection with his profession. He was active in many civic affairs, was the immediate past president of the Rotary club, the vice president of the Calgary Board of Trade, and an active supporter of Central United Church, and the Y.M.C.A.

Mr. Hutton was survived by his widow and four children, who reside at the family residence, 2624 Six-A Street, West, Elbow Park. His oldest boy Herbert, is employed with Burns & Co., Ltd. The others are Wilfred, aged 15, Lloyd, aged 10, and Dorothy, aged 11.

Mr. Hutton was appointed to the position he held at the time of his death, on February 1, 1919, succeeding the late Dr. J. G. Rutherford, who had resigned to become a member of the Board of Railway Commissioners for Canada. Previously for many years Mr. Hutton was associated with the Dominion Government Experimental Farm at Lacombe, an institution that he founded and directed until his appointment with the C.P.R.

In his position with the railway company he had the direction of the following Canadian Pacific Farms: the Strathmore Farm, the St. Julien Farm at Coalville, the White Farm near Bassano. Many experiments were conducted on these farms under the supervision of Mr. Hutton and together with the development of purebred livestock they have made a great contribution to the agricultural life of Western Canada.

Mr. Hutton was a member of the Western Canada Livestock Union and ex-president of the Western Canada Irrigation Association, an ex-president for a number of years of the Western Canada Stock Growers' Association, a director of the Alberta Stock Yards Co., Ltd., a director of the Calgary Exhibition Association, and an active member of other bodies in addition to the civic bodies previously referred to.

An example of what Mr. Hutton has been doing in his work in connection with the trials this spring throughout the prairie provinces of phosphate from the Smelter at Trail B.C. as a grain fertilizer. Last year the phosphate was used on Canadian Pacific farms, bringing about almost phenomenal improvements in production. Taken up this year by the Provincial and Dominion Governments, trials are being made at various points in the west.

Mr. Hutton was a graduate of the Ontario Agricultural College at Guelph and of Loyalist descent.

Mr. Porter in paying tribute to Mr. Hutton declared that he was outstanding in the stock industry in Western Canada, and as an authority was recognized everywhere. He had been a very efficient officer of his department.

James Elliott, chief clerk in the agricultural branch under Mr. Hutton, when interviewed could scarcely believe the news was true. "He went away so cheery," he remarked.

J. M. Camron, Superintendent of the Alberta District C.P.R., said: "I have associated with Mr. Hutton as an officer of the Alberta Stock Yards Company, Limited and know him well. He was a very fine fellow and one that this country can ill afford to lose. It is difficult to believe that he died so suddenly. He had a magnificent physique. He took a keen and very active interest in all matters of public interest."

P. Burns, the retiring head of the great packing firm that bears his name said: "A fine character and a worthy citizen. His death is a great loss to the livestock industry and farming community of the west and to his host of friends."

Fred Spooner, President of the Rotary Club of Calgary said: "News of George Hutton's very sudden death comes as a great shock to me. All of his friends are terribly shocked and grieved. It is difficult to realize he has passed away. I loved and respected by all, he always had a smile and a bright word for everybody. He was frank, honest and fair in the highest degree, a type of man everybody loved to know and associate with. He was the president of the Rotary Club last year and at the time of his death was on the board of its directors. On behalf of the club and myself, I wish to extend heartfelt sympathy to Mrs. Hutton and family in the great loss sustained in the passing of a fine husband and a good father."

Mr. Hutton was a wonderful asset to this community and to the Rotary club, and we will miss him more than words can express."

William Pearce, long associated with western development and with the Canadian Pacific Railway, said that the news had been a great shock to him. He had been very intimate with Mr. Hutton for many years and considered that the deceased was one of the most efficient officials of the railway in the west. His sole interest, Mr. Pearce added was the development of this country and not only Calgary, but the Province of Alberta had suffered a loss that was irreplaceable. In common with all Mr. Hutton's friends, he had always looked upon him as a singularly healthy man and the suddenness of his death was the more impressive on this account.

E. L. Richardson, general manager of the Calgary Stampede and Exhibition, said he was extremely sorry to hear of Mr. Hutton's death. For many years they had been intimate friends, and in common with a wide range of friends of Mr. Hutton's he felt the news had been almost too sudden to be true.

"In our work for the various exhibitions we will miss him tremendously, for he was not only very active in connection with all the livestock shows and sales, but was deeply interested in all our activities. He was a man of many interests, to all of which he brought an amazing energy and a remarkably kindly disposition. He was one of the finest types of men I have ever known, and had probably more friends throughout this western country than any person in Alberta. Throughout the Dominion he was recognized as a leading expert in both livestock and general agriculture."

Walter S. Woods, superintendent of the Soldiers' Settlement Board and Land Settlement committee in Calgary was deeply affected when the news of Mr. Hutton's death was conveyed to him. "I am more than shocked," he said. "For many years I have had the privilege of counting George Hutton among my more intimate personal friends and I was compelled to admire him, not only on account of his obvious ability, but as an example of a splendid citizen, always ready to place his services at the disposal of any work in the interest of the public. He always showed a kindly interest in the progress of the settlers under the 3000 family settlement scheme, and had helped whenever possible in land settlement work."

Ray Saunders,

"Who Steals My Purse—"

Iago had the proper thought
In Shakespeare's play, Othello.
A Good Name lost can't be re-bought
By coins of golden yellow.
So, guard my own Good Name I must
I worked so hard to win it
I must be faithful to the trust
That honest folks put in it.

—Okay Kerr.

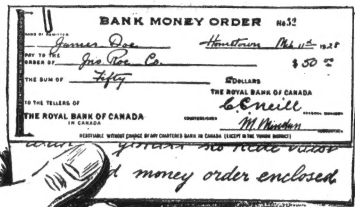

"WHO steals my purse steals trash, but he who fishes from me my good name takes that which leaves me poor indeed." In this well-known sentence Shakespeare summed up an important fact. A good name is above price. The good name which we have won through fair dealing is far too valuable to risk in any doubtful transaction. The good name which Chevrolet has won by integrity cannot be treated lightly. The good name which the "O.K. that Counts" has earned through honest Use Car value is one which will be rigidly maintained. A three-valuable reputation protects your investment in an O.K. Used Car. THE OLD-TIMERS CAN STAND IT

"You have the best little town I have visited since leaving Iowa," remarked a tourist to a Western Globe reporter last week. "We have stopped at nearly every town between home and here, and have not seen one place to compare to it, taking the size into consideration. We were very much struck with your beautiful trees, and that Lest We Forget Park is far ahead of any we have seen either in the towns or cities. Your auto camp is one of the handiest on the trip, and we will sure remember our stay in Lacombe."

"There is one thing, however, I would like you to explain. When I spoke of your pretty little town to one or two other citizens I happened to meet, I was told that Lacombe was a good little town, but that its development was being held back by 'old-timers' who were afraid to develop the town for fear opposition would come in. I cannot believe that this is true. You have here in Lacombe business places equal to most of the stores in the large cities, in fact, my wife tells me that back home in towns ten times the size of Lacombe stocks equal to those in your town were not carried. She says that everything to be found in city stores is to be found here, so I cannot see where the old-timers are doing any great damage. From a run through your district I think that before Lacombe can develop into a city you will have to have more people on the farms surrounding. You have the grandest farming district in the world, and in the near future, you are bound to see great development."

The editor told our visitor that we had listened to that 'old-timer' stuff for twenty years, and that Lacombe had continued to go ahead in spite of it. We also asked our visitor to look up the career of the gentlemen who had sprung the 'Old times' keeping the town back" on him, and see if any great amount of weight should be placed on their opinions. You as a rule never hear a man who is doing well and sticking to his business make statements as quoted above. Since Lacombe was founded we have been blessed with businessmen of good sound judgment, men who saw an opportunity in Lacombe to make a good home and comfortable living, which accounts for so many 'old-timers' being here. So far as being afraid of opposition, our town is limited to the growth of the country, and while overcrowded business is not desirable any place, the coming to Lacombe of business in any line is welcomed, and they keep right on as usual. To our way of thinking a town composed of real businessmen, who are prosperous, is far better than a town filled to overflowing with a bunch of businessmen who are always just a jump ahead of the sheriff, or else the sheriff a jump ahead of them.

There is not a town in the province where the interests of the public are looked after as they are in Lacombe. As our visitor remarked, we have stores equal to most of those in Calgary or Edmonton, and sufficient to take care of all the business coming to Lacombe. When the country fills up and more service is required, the businessmen of Lacombe will be equal to the occasion. It would be well for those who are harping on the old timer keeping the town back to quit their silly ravings and jump right in and do their part to make the town a good place to live in, and to remember that had it not been Lacombe's good fortune to have her business in the hands of men of good common sense, we would now probably be in the same class as the little backwoods village.

Gas waste in Turner Valley was discussed in parliament Wednesday. All that developed was that the Dominion government is in communication with the Alberta government on the matter, which may mean something or nothing at all. Meanwhile, the gas continues to be wasted.

This Modern Life!

Its Habits Produce Constipation, which "Fruit-a-tives" Corrects

MONTREAL, Que., — "After suffering many years from constipation, I was advised to try 'Fruit-a-tives.' All my life has been now," Mrs. M. Golin. Indolent work, soft, rich foods, lack of exercise impair our bodily functions. The most common evidence is constipation. Nervous intestinal activity, denied to most of us by our way of living, is restored and maintained by "Fruit-a-tives," made of the juices of fresh, ripe fruit, blended with health-building tonic. 25c and 50c a box.

THE NEW CRIME

After trial by judge and jury in Montreal, a man was found guilty of having committed criminal libel. The guilty act consisted of printing and distributing a circular in which, among other things, he described another man as a "politician." The judge in the case is an ex-member of the House of Commons while the prosecuting counsel is a member of the local legislature. It is, therefore, quite clear, that the jury must have had unprejudiced direction as to their manifest duty in considering the guilt of a man who described another as a politician. The enormity of the offence must have been fully realized by the learned jurist who presided over the court and by the counsel for the prosecution. What other verdict could a jury possibly have arrived at under such competent direction?

Well, as an old song has it, now we know where we are! It is a criminal offence to describe a man as a politician. Freedom of speech has gone. No more can we indulge in the old-time vituperation of candidates at election time. Time was in Canada when every member of Parliament of Legislature was a crook, and a grafter, utterly corrupt and decadent. The choicest Billingsgate was freely poured out on the hustings and eagerly, even greedily, swallowed by the proletariat. Not only did this apply to the candidates, the ex-members, and the would-be representatives, yearning to serve the electors right. The voters, too, had nothing but the worst to say of those opposing views against their "anks. A Liberal voter was a crook in Conservative eyes, while a Conservative was next to Satan in diabolical status, according to his Liberal neighbour.

Now, alas, all is changed. No more can the free and independent electors of Canada indulge in orgies of abuse and vilification at election times. If we may not even describe a man as a politician without running the risk of being haled before judge and jury and charged with libel, how can we observe the custom which has obtained so long of bespattering with the black mud, those damned Tories and Grits, as the case may be? The spice will all disappear from election campaigns. Nobody dare call a man politician, even; how then can public interest in election be maintained?

Something will have to be done about this matter. We Canadians take our politics, though not our politicians, very seriously. If we cannot now brand our politicians as rogues and vagabonds what is the use of elections? No, no; it will not do. The law must be changed, otherwise there will be a voter's strike and we shall refuse to elect anybody to anything. Then where will the politicians be? Of course there may be a solution of the problem that nobody has thought of before. Our politicians might so conduct themselves that the name politician would no longer be considered a term of reproach, but perhaps this is too much to hope for.

Coroner's jury in Saskatoon has decided that an 11-year-old girl of that city came to her death through negligence of an intoxicated auto-driver. The man at the wheel of a car while under the influence of liquor is always a potential killer.

BENTLEY

On Friday evening, May 25th, the pupils and teachers, with the assistance of the school board, put on an Oratorical contest at the Hall.

In considering the success of Bentley's representative in the recent Dominion contest, the teachers considered it would be a good plan to put on a local contest for those not able to enter the Dominion contest. The board procured 2 each of Gold, Silver and Bronze Medals, suitably inscribed. The pupils of Grades 5 to 10 inclusive were requested to prepare papers on various subjects as their work in composition. The subject of the lower grades being Laura Secord; the Intermediate grades The Factors That Have Made Canada What She is Today; and grades 9 and 10 Canada's Future. From these the teachers selected the 14 they considered the best to speak at a preliminary contest, at which all but six were eliminated. The programme followed by a patriotic song by the school, followed by the saluting of the flag by the school, after which the various contestants were called upon to speak. Rev. Tate, Mr. R. J. Garries and A. R. Gibson acted as judges with the result that Bert Dameron, Grade 7 was the winner of the gold medal, with Francis Wyatt, Grade 5 of the Silver, and Mary Rae, Grade 5 of the Bronze. In Grades 8, 9 and 10, Angela Fleming, Grade 10 on the Gold, Gerald Thompson, Grade 9, the Silver, and Phyllis Thompson, Grade 9, the Bronze, C. F. Dameron, Pres. of the School Board, acted as chairman, and presented the medals. So far as we know, this is the only school of the province that has held a contest of this kind. It was simply a revelation to those present, of what the pupils were capable of doing. Much credit is due the teachers, along with the school board and those who made it a success. We understand that this is to be made a yearly affair and we predict, if this is so, that in the not distant future, the winner of the Dominion Contest may be a pupil of Oxford School.

GETTING READY FOR STAMPEDE

Never before in the history of Lacombe has a celebration of such magnitude as that planned for July 2 and 3 been attempted. The celebration and stampede, sponsored by the Local Elks' Lodge, is fast approaching completion, and it is anticipated that before the two big days of programme of real western sports, equal to the best put on in the larger cities will be completed. The committee has secured the west for real riders and wild horses and has succeeded in getting together the premier riders of the continent. Many of the riders and horses to appear at Lacombe, are entered in the big Calgary stampede, following our celebration. There will be every contest ever attempted in the old cowboy days; bucking horse riding, lariat throwing, wild steer riding, bulldogging, wild horse riding, etc. In addition there will be horse races, in which many well known runners will compete, and a good programme of Indian horse races.

There will also be a monster street parade with good prizes offered for the best decorated auto or horse drawn vehicle; most patriotic float; business float, etc., and it is thought that hundreds will compete in this event. The midway will be bigger and better than ever, and there will be something to amuse everyone, young or old, and it will all be under local management, and every cent you pay will be returned to Lacombe in some public or charitable manner.

Monday, July 2, will be Children's Day. The committee is determined that the youngsters of the town and country will be well looked after. A specially equipped booth has been erected for the sole comfort of the kids, and they will all be provided with tickets, entitling them to refreshments of all kinds, absolutely free. Every kid in town and country is expected to be here and spend one grand and glorious day celebrating Canada's Birthday. Arrangements have also been made for the comfort of tourists. A camping ground is provided for, and those coming in cars will find ample accommodation. The admission has been fixed at 50c. for adults and 25c. for children, with no charge for actors. In the evening the charge will be 25c. for adults and 10c. for children.

The dancing pavilion will be a big attraction, and with a good orchestra, in charge will provide music afternoon and evening.

Every resident of the district should try and make this celebration the best ever held here.

AN INTERNATIONAL WHEAT POOL

The international note has been sounded strongly at the third wheat pool conference in Regina this week. The presence of delegates from Great Britain, Italy, Russia and other countries has contributed to the enthusiasm for internationalism in the marketing of wheat. Enthusiastic advocates of the co-operative movement would go so far as to establish a world selling agency.

There need be no mystification as to what this would lead to. The next step would be the creation of an international board to regulate the flow of exportable grain to the open markets. Any such artificial attempt to control the price of grain by holding up the supply would bring its own punishment. It would be an unjustifiable attempt to defeat the operation of the law of supply and demand in the case of a commodity in general use.

The danger of rushing into an experiment of this kind is foreseen by Mr. H. W. Wood, president of the Alberta wheat pool and pioneer in the pool movement of Western Canada.

He expresses his opinion of the proposal as "dictation, not co-operation." No man can question his enthusiasm for the co-operative selling of wheat. His view is therefore entitled to all the more weight. While favoring closer relations between the pools in different countries, such as in the exchange of confidential information as to markets and growth of crops, he declares that a one pool board to control all co-operatively grown wheat would be an effort to regulate flow and prices. This he considers as unworkable and disintegrating.

This same view carried the day at the Kansas City gathering a year ago. It will no doubt prevail again this week, when all aspects of the proposal are given thorough consideration.

DEEPEST SYMPATHY IS EXTENDED TO MRS. HARRISON AND THE CHILDREN.

MORE CONCORD AMONG FAITHS

—Calgary Albertan—
A remarkable illustration of the trend of the times and broadening of religious thought was given Thursday when leading clergy of the Anglican, Roman Catholic, United and Baptist churches gathered at the Kiwanis Club luncheon to listen to a remarkable address given by Rev. Ferdinand Isenman, rabbi of the Holy Blossom Tabernacle, Toronto. Not only did they listen with keen interest and applaud at the conclusion, but in conversation afterward, many remarked upon the number of points in which all worshippers of God, of whatever branch of thought could agree.

Such a gathering and the utterance of such sentiments would scarcely have been possible a few decades ago. Hitherto there has been too much emphasis placed upon points of difference and to little upon the points of agreement. There will always be genuine differences, especially in the interpretation of religious beliefs, but there is diminishing animosity in their espousal.

As the learned rabbi said, all worship the same God, have the same emotions, the same desires, the same God, the same craving for help and the same feeling of thankfulness. While all cannot see things from the same viewpoint or all accept the same doctrines, still it is possible to agree to disagree on some points and to have an agreement in diversity which will partake more of the spirit of brotherhood of man than has been manifested hitherto.
